

PRIVATE INVESTIGATING specialist Roy Whitehouse cracked open the champagne last week to launch the new premises of his business intelligence company WIS-INTERNATIONAL in Faro.

Several key Algarve business people, including Resident publishing director Mike Almond (left) joined Roy in the celebrations.

WIS-INT has been operating in Portugal for more than 16 years and has offices in Lisbon and London. The company undertakes business intelligence, corporate risk and pre-litigation inquiries, operating in Portugal, Spain, Brazil, Angola and the United Kingdom.

WIS-INT also has a debt collection department which covers 130 countries, as well as representing a number of well known trademarks in relation to counterfeit and piracy matters.

CEO Roy Whitehouse said: "We outgrew our office space in Boliqueime and after a long search we found this office space in Gambelas, opposite the Algarve University. "We had the office personally designed by Mark Jones and it was set up in a manner that allowed us to reduce our paper consumption by 80 per cent and increase productivity by 25 per cent.

You can visit the company's website at www.wis-int.com to see the full range of services provided for private and commercial clients.